

Rider Tori Colvin and operations manager Torrey Hardison keep Private Practice in top form.

BEHIND BARN DOORS: John And Stephanie Ingram LLC

Photos By Kathy Ziegler

John And Stephanie Ingram LLC is home to not one but two USHJA International Hunter Derby Championship winners: Private Practice and Cuba. John Ingram, his wife Stephanie Currey Ingram and their daughter Martha Ingram keep their horses on a portion of River Circle Farm, a 300-acre property owned by Stephanie's parents Brownlee and Agneta Currey. Amateur hunter rider Brad Wolf also keeps three horses, including Private Practice, at the facility.

The Franklin, Tennessee, farm is home to 15 show horses and 14 of the Ingram family's retired horses, and it includes a grass field, large outdoor ring and 90' x 200' indoor ring. Trainer Tom Wright of Uphill Farm comes over daily, as does Tori Colvin, who piloted both Private Practice and Cuba to their titles.

There are 19 stalls in the Ingrams' stable at River Circle Farm.

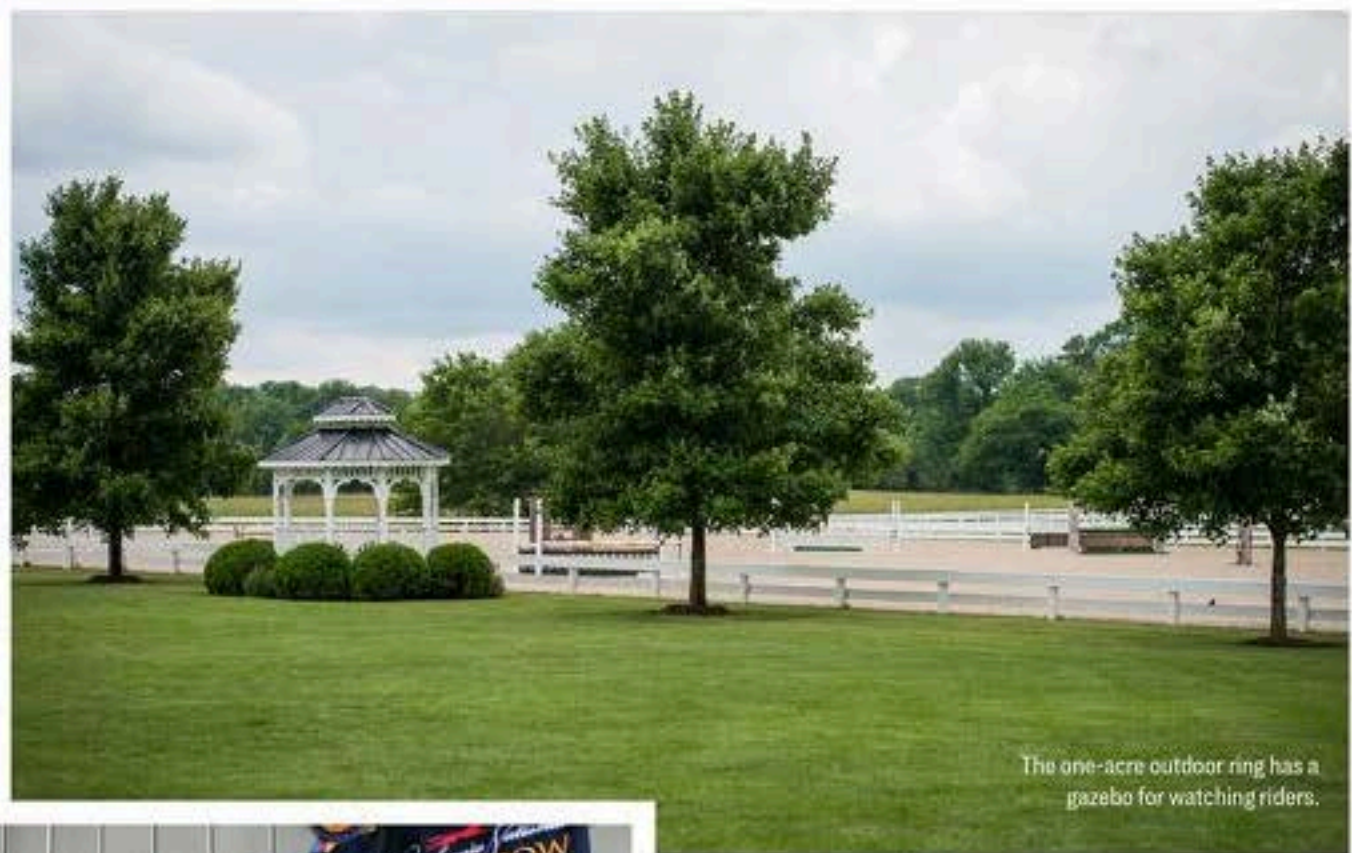

Colin, a 4-year-old dog belonging to Torrey Hardison, operations manager, is from Danny & Ron's Rescue, and is a fixture at John And Stephanie Ingram LLC.

Tori Colvin rides in Franklin, Tenn., during the summertime and shows in Wellington, Fla., in the winter.

A three-acre grass field for schooling and hacking features a bank jump and a water jump.

The one-acre outdoor ring has a gazebo for watching riders.

Awards from major competitions decorate the barn.